$83.00 Personal Membership Rate for Members of the Military & Students To Join AAMS!

Who is AAMS?

Established in 1980, the Association of Air Medical Services (AAMS) is an international association which serves providers of air and surface medical transport systems. A voluntary non-profit organization, AAMS encourages and supports its members in maintaining a standard of performance reflecting safe operations and efficient, high quality patient care. AAMS is built on the idea that representation from a variety of medical transport services and businesses can be brought together to share information, collectively resolve problems and provide leadership in the medical transport community.

Mission

The core purpose of AAMS is to advance safety and quality in air medical and critical care transport.

Vision

Every patient in-need has access to safe, quality air medical and critical care ground transport.

Why join AAMS?

We now have a AAMS Personal Membership Rate of $83 for members of the military and students! Whether you are Active, National Guard, Army Reserve or a current Medical Student, an AAMS Personal Membership can provide valuable education and networking opportunities for you!

- We have many committees, sections and special interest groups (SIGS) for our members to volunteer in and network with each other.
- AAMS committees work on a wide range of issues and projects ranging from government relations, safety, standards to public relations - our committees will provide you with experience that you cannot gain at your current institution or military position.
- Most of AAMS Members are based in the United States, but we are an international association with 2 of our regions being based outside of the U.S.! Non-U.S. Medical Students and individuals from international military organizations are welcome to join AAMS as a Personal Member! continued...

We provide our members with great member publications and discounts for our events and products!

- We give our members registration discounts to our annual education and training meetings such as the Medical Transport Leadership Institute (MTLI), the Safety Management Training Academy (SMTA), and the Air Medical Transport Conference (AMTC). Our charitable arm, the MedEvac Foundation International, provides our members the opportunity to earn a 2-year scholarship to MTLI and SMTA.
- We send our members a weekly email newsletter, News on the Fly, which covers important announcements and news items in the critical care transport community, as well as a round up of important news articles and blog posts on the industry.
- We send our members a bi-monthly, free copy of the Air Medical Journal. Our members can access the Air Medical Journal's archives 24/7 online for free through their AAMS Membership!
- AAMS Members are given access to our members' only Annual Directory and Resource Guide, which lists our members, their contact information, important details about their transport programs, the key leaders in their transport program and much more!

AAMS is trade association: The heart of our association is made up of transport programs and corporations. Becoming a Personal Member of AAMS can expose you to your future employers in the medEvac and critical care transport industry.

- We list our personal members and their information in our members' only AAMS Directory and Resource Guide!
- AAMS Career Center (careercenter.aams.org) is a great location for our members to post their resumes and find current job openings within our industry.
